

Hello and welcome to the fifth edition of the No Little Left Behind activities e-mail. Thank you for subscribing and giving us something to make. Without you we would have nothing to work towards!

As you know May is here, and for some that means the official start of spring and/or summer, and lots of rain. We here hope you're all safe, sound, healthy, and dry if it's your rainy season.

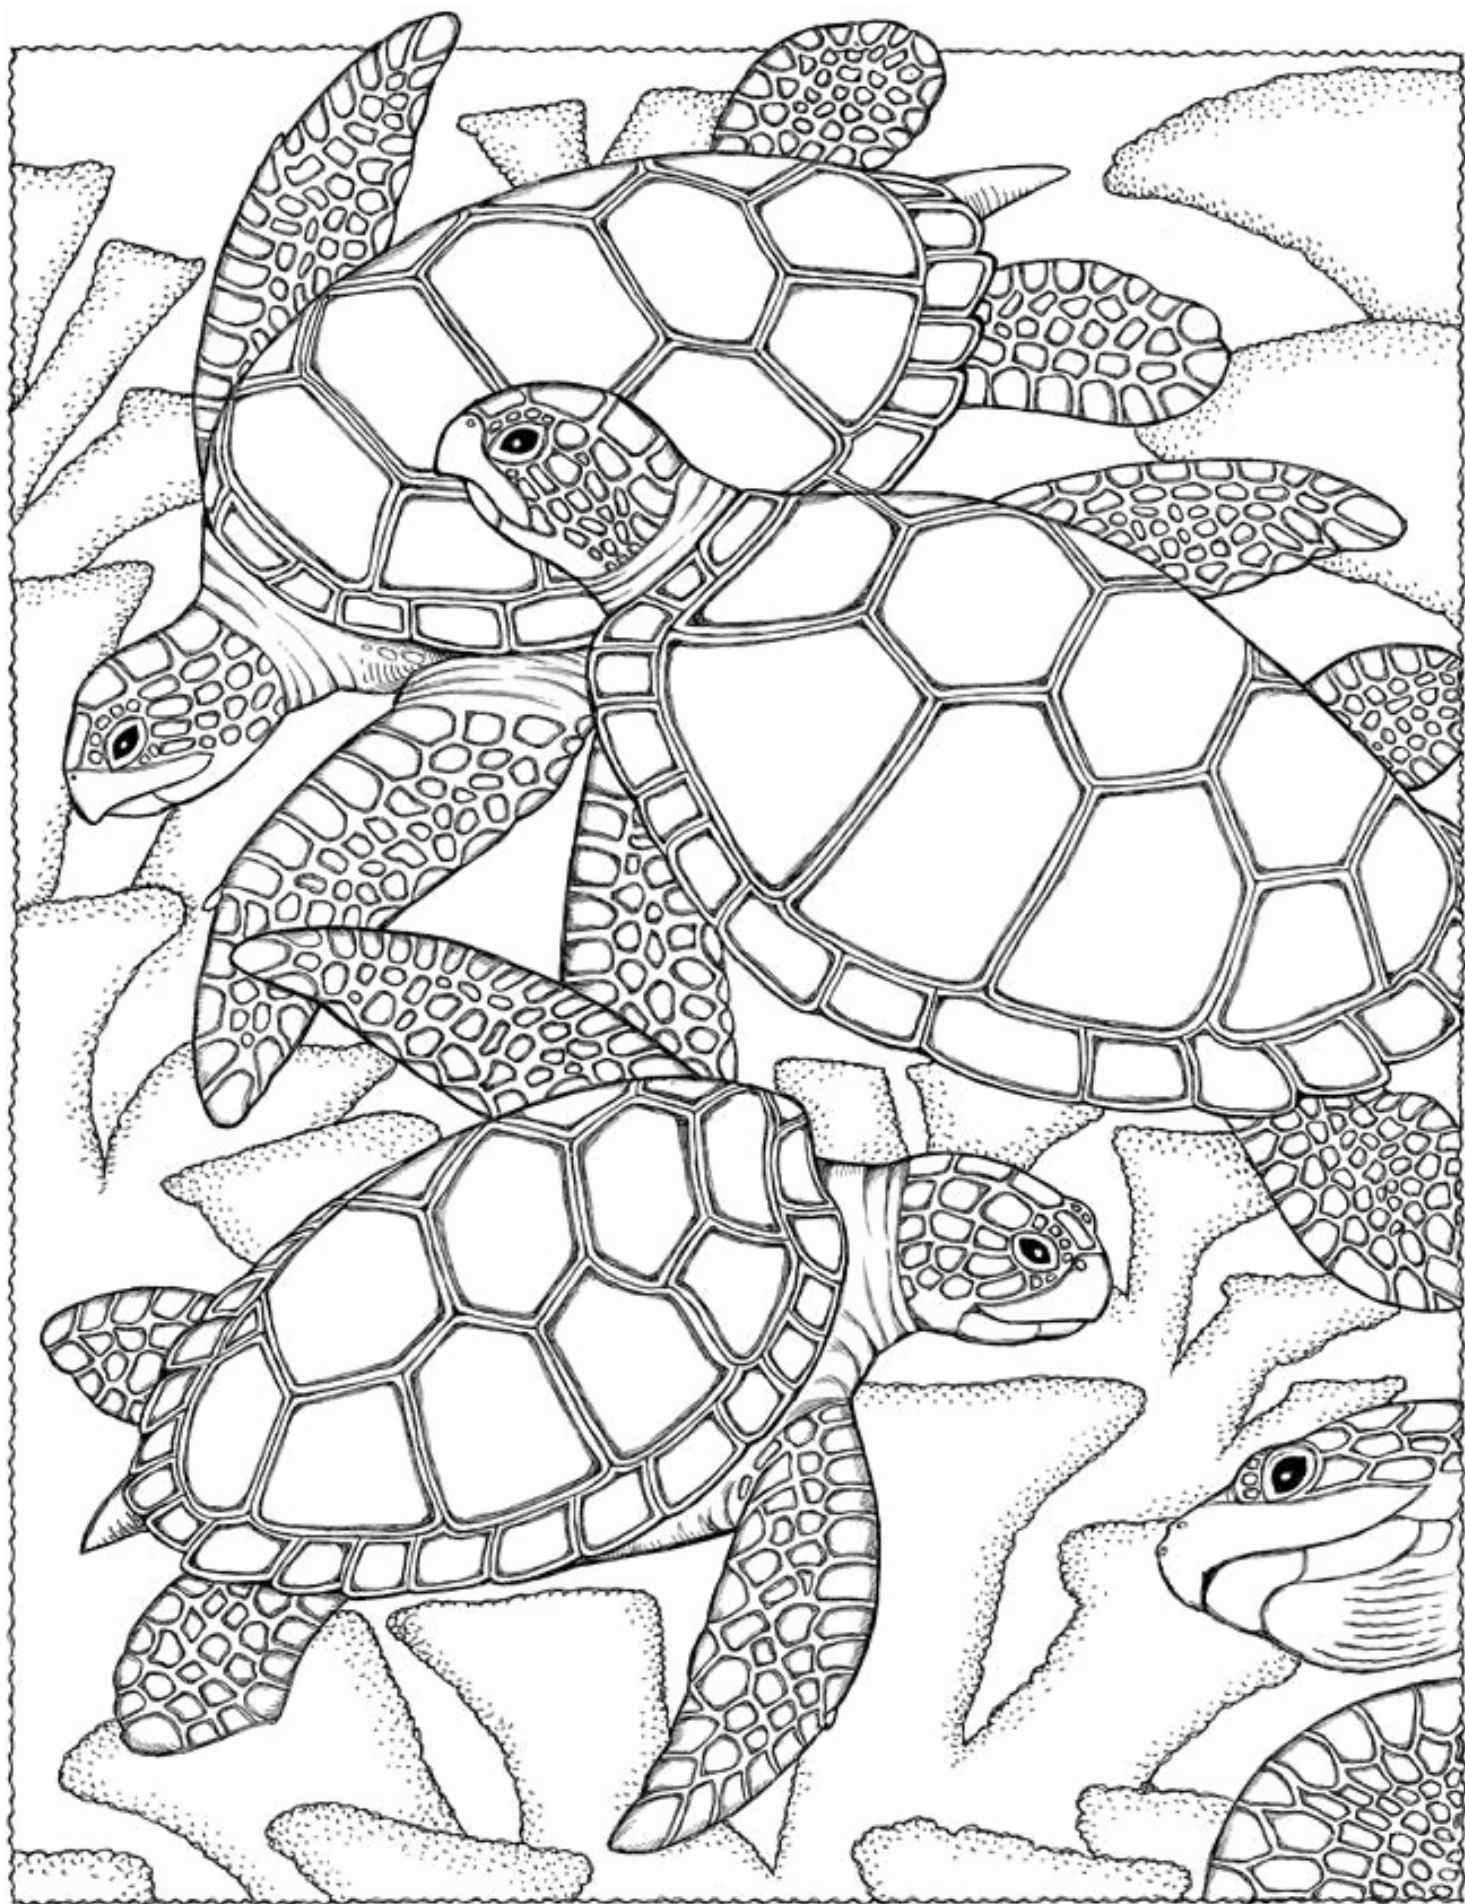

P.S. Sorry for the shortish PDF again this month as well, a lot going on over here, been planning a wedding, so it's taken up a lot of my time. Also, June may be small ish also cause I'm trying to prep that month now, since June is the honeymoon. But after, we'll be back to normal size and planning of the activity PDF's I swear!

Butterfly Cupcakes

Ok, this requires a little explanation. We started to do this recipe, and realized we didn't really have the time this month, and for a few other dietary reasons. Then I told myself, oh, it's ok, I have a nice cupcake recipe on the site already, I'll just use that one and tweak it a bit to work for this one. Then when I got on yesterday to get it all together, I realized I had started the recipe, but never finished it on the site...

So I really dropped the ball on this one this time, but I'll use something generic and fast so everyone can still do it, but it's not up to my normal quality. I will however do my best to finish it for real and I will send a link with pics out next month to make up for it, and I will also think of two small easy recipes for next month as well, as a make up for it. But here it is, the easy version.

Ingredients:

- 1) Box of cupcake mix.
- 2) 1 container of frosting.
- 3) Sprinkles
- 4) Gummy Worms
- 5) Gummy Candies. (You know the ones shaped like orange slices? They do come in other flavors, but those are basically what you need.

Directions:

- 1) Make the cupcakes according to the directions on the box.
- 2) Frost the cupcakes.
- 3) Place your gummy worm in the middle of your cupcake, and place the gummy candies on either side to make wings.
- 4) Add sprinkles if you desire.
- 5) Eat and enjoy. That's it. Lol

So as you can see they are super easy, and super fun, but I just assumed that I had everything already done, and as you know, we all know what happens when you assume... I swear I shant make that mistake again. Sorry for dropping the ball on this one, but I really did think I had the recipe finished on the site, but I apparently didn't.

Next Month's Craft Supplies:

** Keep in mind, all craft supplies listed are just suggestions. You can do the crafts however you want, or not even do them at all.

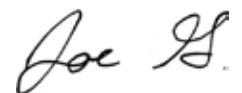

Do any of the crafts how you want, it's all up to you, these are just suggestions so you can prepare for the next month.

General Notes:

- We've still had some interest from a few people in helping us out, with both content for the activities e-mail, and with content for the site, as well as other things related to the NLLB site. We will of course keep you posted on both.

- I know I have said this many times, in many places, but I really can't say it enough, we are nothing without you all, and the only way people learn about us is all through word of mouth, you are our best advertisement. So if you like what we do, and enjoy it, share it with your friends, and tell them to sign up and help get the word out there.

I hope I haven't disappointed too many of you the last few months, but it's been very hectic here. I'm doing my best to delegate my time properly, but I guess I'm failing. I do plan to start on June's PDF tomorrow, 5/2/2021 I swear, and I'll do a little every day so that way I'm not stuck trying to get it all done in a few days. I will work diligently on it as well, except for the 4th, and the 8th, since that's my wedding and wedding party respectively, lol. I think you all will forgive me for that at least. Thanks again for reading, and bearing with me, I really do appreciate you all!!!
