

Hello everyone to what should have been the 12th edition of the NLLB Activities E-mail!!! Obviously it's not, it's the 8th, and the reason for that was in the regular e-mail, I won't go into that here. Thanks for being here though. Thanks for sticking with us!

It's a new year though, and new us. I've made some changes to the format if you can't tell, it may look a little smaller to you this time, that's because it's only for one week of activities. We're switching to a one a week format. I feel it spaces things out more. Makes it so there is more to do every week instead of dumping it all on you first part of the month. I think it works a little better, gives more stuff to do every month, while making the pdf smaller and easier to get through. I'll give it a shot, be sure to let me know what you think of the new layout. I think this will work better and be better for everyone, I hope you all agree!
